Hi Brad and Jeff,

It's time for us to respond to your request for bond re-allocation to future mining areas. As I assume Corey has mentioned, we're both still working through the amendment process. If you haven't had your questions answered about soils and sampling, feel free to let me know.

As a result of the ongoing amendment, we aren't able to approve a bond re-allocation at this point. We'll evaluate the bond re-allocation request at the time of amendment approval.

Peter
